Exemption from the TAFE NSW fee

Your eligibility for an exemption from the TAFE NSW fee can be verified:

Online:
If you provide your CRN (Customer Reference Number) and authorise OTEN to access your details, OTEN can verify your eligibility status (excludes Family Tax Benefit Part A at the maximum rate, or a dependant child, spouse or partner – documentation is required when you submit your enrolment application form as we are unable to verify this online).

To take advantage of this quick and easy option complete the details in Section 10 of the OTEN Enrolment Application form.

By evidence:
You may also provide evidence to support your claim for an exemption from the TAFE fee which may be:

- a letter from a Teacher/Consultant for students with a disability stating that you are a student with a disability and a current client of this Teacher Consultant (for a second or subsequent course enrolment in one calendar year).
- a recent copy (within the last month) of correspondence from Centrelink or Veterans’ Affairs indicating that you are in current receipt of a benefit.
- a copy of both sides of your current Centrelink Pensioner Concession Card or Department of Veterans’ Affairs Gold Repatriation Health Card indicating that the you are in receipt of an Extreme Disablement Adjustment (EDA) or Total and Permanent Incapacity (T&PI) payment (for a second or subsequent course enrolment in one calendar year).
- evidence that your dependant status as a child, spouse or partner of an eligible beneficiary living in NSW, is accepted by the benefit provider and proof that the parent, spouse or partner receives and eligible benefit or allowance.

If you live in NSW, subsequent course enrolment applications in the same year attract the TAFE NSW Concession fee and the OTEN Student Materials and Handling Charge.

A Health Care Card only is not acceptable proof.

For Student Privacy information visit Rights and Responsibilities.

Exemption from the TAFE NSW fee does not apply to TAFE PLUS courses including the Selected Study Program.